The manuscript has not been previously published or submitted for publication in other journals in any languages. Once approved to be published in the open access (no charge) Journal of Food Quality and Hazards Control, the manuscript cannot be published elsewhere. The journal allows users to read, copy, distribute and make derivative works for non-commercial purposes from the material, as long as the author of the original work is cited properly. The manuscript should not be copy or published any materials contained on the journal without the prior written permission of it or the appropriate copyright owner.

The study has been approved by the relevant ethics committee/ institution review boards of the respective institutions. Informed consent of the patients participating in the study has been undertaken. The study itself followed the ethical standards of the Helsinki Declaration (available at: <http://www.wma.net/en/30publications/10policies/b3/>). Ethical considerations in accordance with the ethical standards of the responsible committee on human experimentation have been addressed in the “Materials and methods” section, if necessary. It is the responsibility of the authors/contributors to obtain permissions for reproducing any copyrighted material. Evidence for approval by a local ethics committee (for both human as well as animal studies) is supplied by the authors on demand. The related items are inserted under the ‘Materials and methods’ section. Conflicts of interest including interest or relationship, financial or otherwise must be strictly declared obviously in the manuscript. Plagiarism of text from a previously published manuscript by the same or another author is a serious publication offence. Small amounts of text may be used, but only where the source of the material quoted is clearly acknowledged and the text is inserted in quotation mark. Regarding ethics of scientific publishing, the journal will follow the recommendations of the Committee on Publication Ethics/COPE (<http://publicationethics.org>) and International Committee of Medical Journal Editors/ICMJE (<http://www.icmje.org>). If the journal finds the potential or suspicion of misconduct, the COPE guidelines will be exactly followed. The journal will not consider any manuscript which is ethically unacceptable. The journal reserves the rights to make further changes in language, grammar, style, presentation, etc. to suit the journal's requirements. Shortly before publication of the article, the journal may do further scientific revisions according to final comments of the editorial board.

Based on the recommendations by the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors/ICMJE (<http://www.icmje.org>) about the conduct, reporting, editing and publication of scholarly work in medical journals, all authors should have made significant conceptual, intellectual, experimental, and analytical contributions to the research, as well as having participated in writing and revising the manuscript. Also each author should have participated sufficiently in the work to be responsible for its content. All authors should meet the mentioned criteria in ICMJE about authorship and if nobody meets them, they will be omitted from the list. The authors should ensure that all persons that have provided general support including, technical help, writing assistance, or a department chairperson are listed in the acknowledgment section.

Each author should follow all criteria recommended by the ICMJE as following conditions:

Continued

1. Substantial contributions to the conception or design of the work; or the acquisition, analysis, or interpretation of data for the work; AND
2. Drafting the work or revising it critically for important intellectual content; AND
3. Final approval of the version to be published; AND
4. Agreement to be accountable for all aspects of the work in ensuring that questions related to the accuracy or integrity of any part of the work are appropriately investigated and resolved.

The "Authors' Statement and Copyright Form" should be filled and signed by all the authors, and then scanned and emailed by corresponding author to the journal office (jfqhc.ssu@gmail.com).
